DR. COLLYER'S MESSAGE TO SHASTA STUDENTS

One semester of our first school year is over. This issue of the Shastan comes into being as we start the second half of the year and as we celebrate our first Open House. It is an auspicious week for Shasta—we have come just three years since the State Board of Education first authorized us and we were only a piece of paper even without a name. It has taken time to bring together the ingredients that may be assembled and amalgamated to form a new institution. Many objectives have been attained and road blocks removed. There have been and still will be other obstacles to overcome in the months ahead but what shall be known as Shasta College in the years to come is emerging.

We must fill this physical institution that we know as Shasta with an esprit de corps that will make it distinctive. There are many colleges in our land. They have athletic teams, bands, school papers, yearbooks, clubs, dramatics and radio groups, student government, courses of study, students, faculty—yes, and even college presidents. We have all these—at least in the making and natural setting of mountains and valleys to inspire us. We can build this esprit de corps which will make us distinctive. Let us each do our job well—and do many jobs. In so doing we shall live through any dark days for education—and for our nation. We shall help America to meet its greatest crisis by building better lives for the jobs ahead.

—G. A. Collyer.

SC Enrollment Is Over 200

With the enrollment well under way, the total number of students enrolled at Shasta College, up to yesterday, surpassed the 200 mark, and is expected to increase steadily throughout the enrollment period. This compares favorably with the last semester's opening day enrollment of 224. Last semester's all-time high for student enrollment was 276.

The enrollment during the next two weeks may not reach last semester's total, as some students have enlisted in the armed services, or have dropped out to work.

Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Stubblefield are building a home in the Country Club district.

Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Davis are the proud parents of a boy born on January 13.

The students and faculty of Shasta College wish to express their sympathy to Jo Ann Venner with the recent loss of her father, John H. Venner.

The dedication prayer and benediction by the Rev. Thomas Turnbull. The Shasta String Quartette, consisting of Janet Robertson, Virginia Bradfield, Alice Londres, and Lois Rhodes, played several numbers.

For the visitors, conducted tours will be held today, Friday, and Saturday.

Tonight, at 8 o'clock, the play, "Arsenic and Old Lace," will be presented by the college squad in the high school auditorium. The Little Symphony Orchestra will play. This morning, a Home-makers meeting was held in the Home Ec. rooms. Basketball games, between Shasta and Vallejo colleges, will be played Friday and Saturday nights, and a dance will be held from 8:30 to 11:30 Friday.

Visitors will be conducted on tours by members of the faculty and students.

Evening School Has 72 Classes:

More than 1800 students are now enrolled in 72 night classes, according to Mr. Ray Sanders, principal of the Adult Evening School.

Most of the courses which were offered during the first semester will be repeated this term, and several new classes will be added. Some of the new offerings are in California real estate, Swedish, and citizenship. These three classes do not offer college credit, but are for the benefit of those who are interested in them.

Evening school officials anticipate forming several classes in first aid in order to help the civil defense program.

Among the classes which offer college credit for persons who want them are Spanish, English, bookkeeping, typing, shorthand, shop, history of the Far East, oil painting, music, French, and geology.

Prospective students should get in touch with Mr. Sanders at the college and discuss their program with him.

Welcome, Visitors

Welcome, parents and friends, to the first Open House of Shasta College.

Shasta College is a building of which the whole community can be proud. Students and instructors who attend classes daily are able to look deeper into the school, past the outside appearance, and into the classrooms. We feel that what is happening there is worthy of as much pride as the building itself.

Visitors are urged to examine the work that is on display in order to get a clear picture of what is going on up here on the hill.

Open House is an annual affair in California schools and it is now a part of Shasta College procedure. As the years go by, more progress will be made here on the buildings and in the classrooms.

You are urged to make it a habit to attend Open House each year and see the progress made by the infant that is now Shasta College.

History Is Made At Shasta College Every Day In The Year

Although Shasta College has just opened its doors within the past six months, the dream and planning for the establishment was first begun over three years ago. In November of 1947, the Board of Trustees of the Shasta Union High School district authorized the beginning of a junior college in Redding.

The following January the idea was approved by the State Board of Education. The project was furthered by the passing of a bond issue by the school district in October of that year. By this time, the college was becoming more of a reality, as the construction of the building was now possible. Charles Dean, Sacramento architect, was the choice for the designing of the building.

Dr. G. A. Collyer was chosen as the first president to direct the planning from June of 1949 until the college was ready, and, after that time, to direct the administration of the college in operation. Plans for the building were approved by the State Board of Education in January, 1950. Later that month, the B & R Construction Company of San Francisco, was granted the contract for construction of the main buildings. In May, 1950, a second contract was let with the same firm for the construction of the gymnasium and swimming pool.

The first actual ceremony of Shasta College was held in May, 1950, when the building was dedicated with the laying of the cornerstone.

The ceremony was conducted by the Masonic Lodge of California.

Opening day was September 18, 1950. Since that time, much history has been made by the activities of the students. Hardly a day has passed since that time that any other "first" at Shasta College has not been entered in the historical albums.

The first colors, green and gray, the team name "Knights", the first school paper, October 19; the first student government; first vacations, and first athletic contests are only a few of the many "firsts" of the institution known as Shasta College.

Want a Coke? Try the Student Union, Students' Meeting Place

The favorite gathering place for Shasta College students is the Student Union, modern in every detail. Students gather there to drink coffee and cakes, eat, talk, and to play the juke box.

During finals week, the Student Union seemed to be the logical place for the last minute cramming with the rest of the condemned.

Containing a fountain, bookstore, terrace, jukebox, and coke machines, the Union also will include a patio when further landscaping is completed. Regular lunches and dinners are served daily to students, while breakfast from the snack-bar is available on request. The price of lunches has risen from 35c to 45c, and the evening meal runs to 95c.

Special turkey dinners with all of the trimmings were served by Mrs. R. I. Flaharty and Mrs. John Downs, chief cooks and bottle washers, during Thanksgiving and Christmas weeks. Assisting these two in serving are the following: Sametta Sutton, Barbara Leach, Mary Lou Barcus, Wilma Goldner, Nina Berry, Marilyn Johnson, Maurice Davis, and Victor Keller.

Classroom Work Does Not Suffer While College Is Still Under Construction

Shasta College is still under construction, and the last building to be completed under the present contract will be the main part of the gymnasium. The activity room, swimming pool, and locker rooms are almost done now and will be put to use soon.

Dr. G. A. Collyer stated, "We hope we will be able to go ahead with the rest of the construction that is now on the blueprint." Additional shop space, down on the flat with the first shop, is planned that would give Shasta four complete shops. An auditorium that would be to the north of the front door with a music wing, and a combination social and dining room east of the main corridor and visitors. That will leave the space on the streets on the west and east side of the building free for the students to park their cars.

When asked what additional construction is planned for the near future, Dr. Collyer said, "I hope we will be able to have a sprinkler system south of Unit One and have a lawn this spring here."

The lay-out of the college plant at present consists of the main building, the four wings of which hold the business classes, home economics, journalism, business major, and general classes. The shops now consist of the wood shop, auto mechanics, and mechanical drawing. Others. The gym, part of which will be completely very soon,

25-Acre School Farm Gives Good Training To Shastans

The school farm is a part of the school that is little known to most of the college students. It is located about three miles south of Redding and consists of 25 acres of irrigated land which is shared by the high school and the college.

The operation of the farm is guided by instructor Taylor, Mathews, Henderson and Hillman, who lives in the house on the property.

Two days a week 17 students from the college go out to study every phase of farming and ranching. The farm training consists both of raising stock and cultivating land.

The livestock of the farm consists of eight head of Hereford cattle, thirty Hampshire sheep, and five Chester White and Dorac pigs. The students are taught to balance rations for these animals and to identify the different breeds of domestic livestock.

In balancing rations for the stock, the student farmers start from scratch and grind their own feed in a grain grinder and feed mixed which is part of the farm equipment. The grinder is also used for maintaining a grinding service for veteran farmers in the area.

On the cultivation side, the students are taught to use farm implements such as a tractor, plow, mower, disc, harrow, manure spreader and a hay rake, and modern methods of crop production. At all times the farm is planted on one side in a grass and legume-identification plot and on the other side in a plot used for experimentation with fertilization and cultivation practices.

The agriculture department, faculty, and students welcome all visitors and to take into consideration that the farm has only been in operation for a short time and hence is not in the best of condition. The house on the property is to be painted and the surrounding ground landscaped and the whole farm is to get a general face-lifting. The agriculture department is working with the hope that in a few years the school farm will be a showplace—the model farm of Northern California.

Here Is Something You May Not Know About SC Teachers

Miss Virginia Chappell, English instructor, is the president of the Speech Arts Association of California.

Mr. Donald Boyd, art instructor, has one man show in modern oil at the Portland Museum of Modern Arts.

A golf champion of renown is Mr. Richard Bailey, instructor in physical and engineering sciences. He won the San Francisco city amateur championship recently.

Mr. Nelson Taylor, co-coordinator of the agricultural association, was elected vice president of the American Association of Agriculture Teachers, at the national convention at Miami.

Mr. Michael Graban, director of publications, and Mr. Boyd are members of the American Association of University Professors. The former was accepted when he taught at the University of Nevada, while the latter was taken into the group when he was teaching at Montana State College.

Mr. M. Davis, Industrial Arts instructor, is the author of a book, "Triangulation in Tool Design," and a member of three national honorary fraternities. Pi Sigma Chi and Epsilon Pi Tau, both honorary fraternities for industrial education, and Kappa Delta Pi, an honorary fraternity in education. —N.M.

NO EVENING MEALS YET

The cafeteria will not serve evening meals during the first week of the second semester, according to a recent office bulletin. A sign-up list is in the office for those wishing to eat in the cafeteria evenings.

The Chinese language, including its dialects, is spoken by more people than any other language.

Shasta Library Is Modern In Every Way; No Limit To Space

Shasta College's large library differs from most college libraries in that it is new, modern in every detail, and is a natural inducement for study. Complete with air conditioning, for those hot spring days, and having large glass windows to bring in light so essential for proper study, the library is decorated in soft pastel tones to create a relaxing atmosphere for the many students who study there daily.

In charge of the library is Mr. Milton Black, who is co-coordinator of libraries for Shasta College and Shasta Union High School. Mr. Black studied at the University of California where he received his M.A. and M.S. degrees. Previously a teacher at Shasta Hi, Mr. Black worked last year at the San Francisco Public Library. Assisting in the library duties are the following students: Jamine Trask, June Ferry, Nancy Dunlap, Evelyn Lowry, and Dolores Summers.

Mr. Black estimates that there are approximately 1355 books on the library shelves, with additional ones arriving each day. There are few fiction books as the library's main purpose is to furnish research material to the student.

Current magazines and newspapers are also available for the student's use.

And here is something of a record—all the books borrowed by students during the first semester less than ten have not been returned!

The armed forces are gaining 16 of the men that Shasta College has lost or is losing at the end of this semester.
Those from Redding are Bob Daniels, Ted Meaker; Bill Richards, Clyde Bissett, Chuck Mills, Mike Holliing, Gary Elsmie, and Hugh Higginbotham.
Those from Corning are Dave Hargens and Ralph Bright.
Others are Jim Harris and Dick Brodunarsi from Red Bluff; Charlie Salinas, Mr. Shasta; Bob Wolcott, Paskenta; Doug Fleming, Project City; and Richard Morgan, Cottonwood.
Engineering Courses Offered

The engineering courses offered at Shasta College this year include plane surveying, architectural drawing, engineering drawing, and mechanical drawing.

Students taking the plane surveying course, instructed by Mr. Richard Bailey, have been measuring distances around the campus and practicing leveling and figuring angles and elevations.

This surveying course consists of two lecture periods and four hours of laboratory work a week. It is a three-credit course, and all students who wish to become engineers must take it.

The architectural engineering and mechanical drawing classes are instructed by Mr. Maurice Davis, who has taught at Hamilton Junior High School in Long Beach and at Modesto Junior College at Modesto.

Mr. Davis' classes thus far have just about completely equipped their own classes as they have made some sharp looking tables, bookcases, and some tool cabinets.

The architectural drawing class students are making a set of house plans as their class project.

There are not too many students enrolled in any of the classes, but this gives the instructor enough time to give each student much individual attention.

College Life Must Be Rather Tame For Shasta Navy Veteran

Going to college must seem dull and monotonous to Duane Allen after serving three exciting years in the United States Navy during World War II.

The Japanese "Charlie Barges," used to intercept the P.T. boats. The boats had one of two choices to make: one was to crash through the barges, running the gauntlet of their terrific fire power, or lying in wait until daylight and being pulverized by the short batteries. The enemy also had a plane aiding them. It dropped a near miss on one of our boats, completely wrecking it. It killed the 40 m.m. gun crew, and injured all but two or three of the remaining crew members.

The other two boats still had to run the gauntlet of the two Japanese barges to get to the channel and then to freedom. Finally, it was decided that they would lay a heavy smoke screen as close as possible to the barges and make a run for it. Luckily, the boats' engines were still running well, even though the engine room was full of gaping holes. After narrowly missing the Jap barges, they proceeded out into the channel and safely made it.

Music Dept. Includes Operetta In Spring Plans

Mr. P. A. Stubblefield, director of music, reveals that the combined music department, including the night school, will present an operetta late this spring. The performance is of the Gilbert and Sullivan production, "H.M.S. Pinafore."

The combined chorus will consist of some 40 mixed voices while the orchestra will number about 35 instruments.

Rehearsals for this production will begin on or about February 1. The Language Department Offers Opportunity For Future Linguist

The language department of Shasta College offers many opportunities to the prospective linguist. Spanish I and II, French I and II, and German I and II, are open to enrollment. Students who have previously had two years of a foreign language in high school are eligible for the second year, while those who have had one year or less will start with a first year language.

Language instructors are Mr. Michael Graban, Mr. Oscar Matson, Mr. Graban, who teaches Spanish II, received his A.B. degree at Ohio University and, on his M.A. degree at the University of Nevada where he later was an instructor. Mr. Matson, who teaches French I and II, German I and II, and Spanish I, received his A.B. and M.A. degrees at the University of California where he was a teaching assistant.

thus far since he was nine years old, and has been flying since 1940. He owns two planes and is an officer in the sheriff's aerial posse. He has spent many hours recently looking for lost fliers: Dr. Smith, Broadhurst and Mal- vini, and the Standard Oil executive who was never found.

Allen believes that universal military training is a necessity. He said, "Our boys should be prepared and trained to fight, so that in case of war they will not be rushed overseas without adequate training."

BARNARD & JOHNSON
DUANE ALLEN

Allen was born and raised in Yakima, Washington, and lived an uneventful life until he joined the navy in September, 1942. He received his boot training in San Diego, after which he was sent to the Motor Machinists Mate School in Columbia, Missouri.

Allen’s next assignment was with the Motor Torpedo Boat Squadron Training Center at Melville, Rhode Island. After completing his training here, Allen was assigned to Motor Torpedo Squadron Twenty Eight, and the entire squadron, boats and all, were sent to the Panama aboard a tanker.

From Panama the boats proceeded to the island base of Trinidad, then were loaded on a fast gasoline tanker which crossed the Pacific, unescorted, at 25 knots an hour, to Esperity, Santos where the boats were unloaded once more. The torpedo boats first encountered the channel. It was eventually decided that it would be easier to pass it than to try to take it.

“We didn’t dare get caught in that channel in daylight or the shore batteries would blow us to kingdom come,” said Allen. “We made many patrols up this channel, destroying supply and troop barges. Here was the first time I had actually seen the Japs. We would locate their barges on our small radar sets and move in on them, the “exec” would drop a flare into the 60 m.m. mortar and in second the flare would break, light up the scene like daylight and we would open fire with our guns. You can imagine what would happen. Usually three boats would operate together, thus concentrating much fire power into one small area.”

One night the torpedo boats encoun-

The college could now accommodate 500 to 600 students, and if there wasn’t ever-normal distribution it could handle 700 to 800 without being crowded. When the plant is completely finished it will accommodate 1000 to 1200.

Shasta College Passes 200 Mark In Enrollment

The enrollment at Shasta College this semester has reached 223, it was announced today by Dr. G. A. Collyer. This figure is almost as high as last semester's when the term opened. Eighty-eight of the students come from outside of Redding.

Next to Redding's 135 students enrolled are the 11 from Anderson, Cottonwood, Corning, and Red Bluff, followed with seven representatives each.

From the neighboring Siskiyou County come five students from Weed, four from Mount Shasta, one from Yreka, one from Fort Jones, three from Dunsmuir, and one from Hillas.

Other communities represented are Weaverville, with three students; Oak Run, three; Shasta, four; Castella, two; Hayfork, two; Delta, two; Millville, two; Montgomery Creek, ten; and Long Beach, Navojo, Big Bar, Gerber, Paskenta, Ono, Schilling, Alturas, North Hollywood, Des Pals, and Shingletown, each one.

Redding's neighboring towns also send students to Shasta.

Two foreign countries, Scotland and Poland, have one student each here. The state of Oregon also has two students at the college.

Although the enrollment at one time last semester reached 276, there is a normal drop in the second term, Dr. Collyer explained. Enlistments also took some of the students.

SC Participants Must Hold Cards

All members of teams or organizations representing Shasta College must purchase ASCC membership cards immediately, it was announced following meetings of the executive council. This ruling would include the Shasta Aggies, Ski Club, Shastan, Excilibur, orchestra, drama groups, athletic teams, and other authorized organizations.

At the first meeting on Wednesday, Feb. 7, a motion was passed that all students participating in student body activities supported by funds from the student body cards be required to buy a card. Mr. Ernest Stump said that the way the funds are shaping up now, "with our basketball profit, which is very small, little will be left for student activities." The card will be sold for $1.50, and each card will be valued at $1.

First Semester Leading Students Are Announced

Annabella Graves, sophomore pre-teaching student from Hills, Siskiyou County, led the Shasta College students scholastically for the first semester by achieving a straight A, or 3.0 point average. She is the only student in the college with a perfect mark, it was disclosed by Mr. Donald Kaufman, chairman of the faculty scholarship committee, who made the evaluation.

The point system is based on one point for a C grade in a subject, two for B, and three for A. Altogether, 48 regular students had an average of 2.0 or better. Averages here listed are only of those students who carried a full time load, 12 hours or more.

Annual Staff Chooses Name

FXCAIRURR was chosen by secret ballot as the name for the Shasta College annual at a recent meeting of the staff.

It was chosen over three other suggestions, Charger, Lance, and Coat of Arms.

Excilibur was the name of King Arthur's "singing sword" that he acquired by ripping it free from the rock to which it was magically fixed. It was by that action that he was acclaimed King of England. With his marvelous sword he committed deeds of chivalry and defended the innocent.

Staff photographers John Pawley, Bill Sublett, and Jack Davis have been busy the past few weeks filling in for temporary replacements in the photography department.
drew more than 700 visitors through its doors during the three-day celebration and dedication.

Wednesday, January 31, a dedication ceremony attended by representatives of the community and county was held in the music room, with Willard Simons, president of the governing board of trustees, officially dedicating the college. Dr. Ray Dinsmoor, superintendent of public instruction in California, gave the principal address, and Dr. Gilbert A. Collyer, president of Shasta College, spoke on “Shasta Tomorrow.”

Mr. Jackson Price, district superintendent, introduced the speakers.

A highlight of the ceremony was a panel discussion in which representatives of school and civic groups participated.

Guided tours throughout the college plant were conducted Friday and Saturday by faculty and student members. Special events included a Homemaker’s convention Thursday morning, the presentation of “Arsenic and Old Lace” Thursday night by the college group under the direction of Miss Virginia Chappell. Friday night a dance was held.

The Open House committee was as follows: program, Mr. Jackson Price, Judge Richard Eaton, and Dr. Gilbert Collyer; publicity, Mr. Michael Graham and Elinor Flug; registration and guided tours, Mr. Ernest Stump and Mr. Dudley Saelzter; invitations, Mrs. Grace Smith, Mrs. Lucy Hunt, Dr. Collyer, and Mr. Price; refreshments, Mrs. Corene Jones and Mrs. Ira Blalock; music and information, Mr. Philip Stubblefield and Dr. Collyer; and exhibits and posters, Mr. Donald Royd.

PLAY AT HIGH SCHOOL

Students of Shasta Union High School will present the play, “You Can’t Take it With You,” at 8 p.m. Friday in the auditorium of the high school. The elementary school band, under the direction of Mr. William Benulis, will play during the evening. Proceeds from the play will be used by buy uniforms for the elementary school band.

Need Any More Reasons?

Among other things, an office bulletin last week had this to say:

"Recently, the Student Executive Committee has committed itself to upholding the Constitution and enforcing the policy respecting membership in the A.S.C.C. In order to participate in athletics or in any function representing Shasta College, one must be a member of the Associated Students. The group decided that if you wish to participate in such activities; if you want a college yearbook and newspaper; if you want to vote or hold any student office; if you want basketball and other sports to continue this season, then purchase your A.S.C.C. card. The price is $7.50.

Holding a student body card entitles you to free admission to games and to reduced admission to dances, theaters, and skating rink. It enables you to hold student body office, gives you reduction on the yearbook and school paper, and allows you to vote and participate as a member of athletic teams. Unless sales of these cards increase, we will not be able to send representatives to the Junior College Student Leaders' Conference and finance the remainder of the basketball season."

Besides the above mentioned reasons for purchasing your student body card, the most important job you will have accomplished is showing your loyalty and support of your college.

It Seems To Me . . .

THAT some sort of allowance should be made as far as the purchase of student body cards, by athletes and other representatives of the school that bring money floating into the cash register—a cut at a few dollars on the price of their cards, anyway.

THE halls still echo a faint distant sound of Lamoureux’ woes. (This line rhymed so nicely that I couldn’t bear to leave it out.)

GREECE’S representative to this school summed it up sumptuously and lengthily, in orangutan oratorical form (deeply diaphragmed), crowning it to Bacon St. Blues: “Ain’t got no money.”

MOST oft-repeated phrase of the day, generally accredited to “Where’s Johnny” Hoffman (no official confirmation)—“You mean you haven’t got your student body card yet?” As for myself, I’ve been creeping around corners and sticking to dark alleys. So far they haven’t caught up with me . . .

BE that as it may, I think we all should get in and get our cards as soon as possible. Sooner, if possible. (Is that possible?)

I understand there’s a girl in school who won several “queen” contests up north. I’ve been trying to figure out just which one of all the beautiful girls in school this one beautiful girl is . . .

ELIGIBLE FOR AID

Students and prospective students who are widows or orphans of veterans who died as a result of war service are eligible to receive educational assistance from the State of California Department of Veterans Affairs, according to W. E. Payne of Division of Educational Assistance. Any student who qualifies may receive $40 per month while attending school beyond the high school level.

Orphans and unmarried widows of veterans may qualify if they have re-sided in California five years preceding application and have reached the age of 16. This assistance, entirely separate from compensation payments from the United States Veterans Administration, is similar to many scholarships in that it does not resemble the dairy system but offers valuable help to those who would otherwise be unable to continue their education, it is explained.

Play Delights
Large Audience

The first college production, "Arsenic and Old Lace," shown to the public on Feb. 1 at Shasta Union High School, was a great success. Except for a few hastenings at the beginning, the play moved along smoothly throughout.

Barbara Maxon and Barbara Leach were outstanding in their performances as the Mississippi sisters in the play. Ann Vardam, as Elaine Harper, the minister's daughter, was well suited for her part.

Jay Townsend, as Mortimer, had one of the most important parts in the play, and gave a fine performance.

Long-legged Don Gilzean, the slightly unbalanced nephew in the play, amused adults and children alike with his imaginary trips to Panama and Africa.

The villains in the play were ably portrayed by Harold Steele and Norman Miller as Dr. Einstein and Johnson, the third nephew. William Starr, as one of the police officers, added contributively to the comedy in the play.

The Shasta Symphony Orchestra, under the direction of Mr. Philip Stubblefield, played before the opening of the play and between acts, and delighted the audience with their excellent performances.

David Saul and Donald Howell paint-red the scenery for the play, and Sybil
Jackson arranged the set.

After the play all the players, the members of the cast and their guests gathered for an informal party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Maxon.

CAMPUS COMMENTS

These buildings constitute what is alleged to be a college. You perhaps wonder why "alleged." The principal reason is just this: in order for a group of structures to become a college in the true sense of the word, it must be occupied and partially supported by students. Now these students, when admitted to college, are

BRACKEN ELECTED
HEAD OF CHORUS

Donald Bracken was elected president of the Shasta Civic Chorus at a recent meeting. Other officers are as follows: Bob Bowman, vice-president; and Mrs. Sara Morrow, secretary-treasurer. The chorus, which is directed by Mr. Philip Stubblefield as a part of the College Evening School, rehearses ev-every Tuesday evening at 7:30 in the music room.

Plans are underway for the presentation of Gilbert and Sullivan’s "H.M.S. Pinafore" in the spring. The production staff for the opera is Bob Bowman, assistant musical director; John Robinson, assistant business manager; and Tom Laidley, assistant orchestra director. The Shasta Symphony will perform for the occasion.

Little Symphony Orchestra Plays

Redding's Shasta Symphony made its first public appearance February 1 when it played for the college production, "Arsenic and Old Lace." Organized about four months ago as a part of the College Evening School, the orchestra has 40 members, with Janet
Robertson, formerly with the Seattle
Symphony, as the concertmaster.

Several members of the group were former members of other symphonies.
The group is now beginning work on operetta, "H.M.S. Pinafore," by Gilbert and Sullivan, which is scheduled for May 4.

The orchestra meets Wednesday evenings at 7:30. Mr. P. Stubblefield stated that all of the members attend regularly, making for a close knit, cohesive group.

BURTON'S
SHOE STORE

"College,
Here at Shasta this is obviously not the case.

The self-same individuals who enjoy so fully our free dances or the equally gratis basketball games are also those who abstain from purchasing student body cards! Can this, in any way, be called adult thinking? It is inconceivable.

A great many people labored over the establishing and opening of this institution. Many difficulties were encountered and eventually surmounted in the pursuit of the ultimate goal.

Now we have the school. It's ours, yours and mine. Shall we support it as we should when the appeal is given, or should we sit complacently by and ignore the urgent necessities?

That question is squarely up to each and every student here enrolled. Can we all be so mercenary as to reply, "Why buy a card, won't get my money's worth?" Can any right thinking student dismiss the need thusly? The purchasing of a student membership card can't possibly be an unreasonable request coming as it does, so early in our existence.

For our overall welfare, let us fervently hope that the proper spirit and attitude will soon prevail. -G.D.

THINGS YOU NEVER KNEW ABOUT Your WATCH

Whether you know it or not, wrist watches are a relatively new invention, and a very handy gadget compared to the timepieces used by your ancestors. "It waxeth late... And "waxeth" was the proper word when King Alfred the Great of England introduced the wax candle as a timekeeper. That was way back in the year 903.

Today the man who carries a nationally-advertised watch never worries about the time. Choose one today from our selection of fine timepieces.

Placer College Scores Two Victories Over SC

Shasta's cagers dropped both of their league games against Placer College by scores of 38 to 40 on Friday, February 14, and 36 to 42 the next day.

The Knights gave the Pacers a tough game of it both nights but lost their backsides the deciding difference both nights.

In the first game, Jack Ures, Ted Garnier, and Larry Wade were the scoring threats for the Shastans as they hit for 29 of the team's 38 points. This was quite a change from the 31 and 22 point average that Dick Lamoureux and Jack Lamplough had usually been hitting for thus far in league play.

The main reason for both defeats was a little six-foot-six-inch lad by the name of Larry Brewer who could shoot almost as well as he could control the backboards. In the Saturday night context Brewer was tied with Larry Wade for scoring honors with 13 points. In this same game these high scorers were also the outstanding players as Brewer thrilled the crowd with three choice hook shots from approximately 12 feet out. Larry Wade, although ten inches shorter than Brewer, was a ball of energy as he was in on or very close to all of the secondary rebounds which was a great asset to the whole team.

Ted Garnier was another bright spot for the Knights as he turned in an outstanding game of defensive work in each contest.

Friday night scores for Shasta were: Lamplough, 5, Ures, 6, Lamoureux, 4, Gardner, 7, and Wade, 6.

Saturday night scorers were: Lamplough, 3, Ures, 7, Lamoureux, 5, Gardner, 6, and Wade 13. —R.K.

Knights Win Two From Redskins

Shasta College swept through its first two home league games with twin wins over the Vallejo Redskins by scores of 73 to 62 on Friday, February 3, and 85 to 67 on the fourth.

In the first game, Dick Lamoureux and Jack Lamplough were high point scorers as they hit for 25 and 21 points, respectively. In the second game, it was Lamoureux and Lamplough again as they scored 37 and 27 points, respectively. Jack Ures, first string forward on the five, has developed into a genuine scoring threat as he hit for 12 and 11 points in the two games. All except one of these points were made from 35 or 40 feet out.

The Knights worked like a well-oiled machine all the way around as Larry Wade and Ted Garnier turned in two sterling games at the guard posts and netted a total of 24 points for the two nights.

Friday night scorers were: Lamplough 21, Wade 5, Lamoureux 25, Gardner 9, and Ures 12.

Saturday night scorers were: Lamplough 27, Wade 4, Lamoureux 25, Gardner 6, and Ures 11.

J. V. SQUIRES TAKE TRINITY MINERS

The J. V. Squires of Shasta turned in their best performance to date by defeating the Trinity High Miners 46-31.

Beginning the second quarter, the J. V.'s took complete command of the game. At the half the score was 22-12.

Jim Bidwell took the scoring honors with 15 points. Other scorers were: Bronson 4, Evans 2, Salinas 13, Lazzeri 4, Bauman 6, and Cockrell 2. High point man for Trinity was forward Hansen with 12 digits.

Scholarship Club Is Formed At SC For Top Students

A new chapter of Alpha Gamma Sigma, California Junior College Honor scholarship Society, will soon be added to Shasta College's organizations. Mr. Oscar Matson, Miss Lois Neuman and Mr. Warren Bailey, temporary faculty advisors for the group, announce that copies of the constitution are being printed, and that membership applications are being received.

The requirements for temporary membership, which limit the membership to honor students, are the following: no less than 12 quantity units; no less than 30 quality points; and a grade point ratio of at least 2.3. Permanent membership is obtained by any member who has completed the number of quantity units required for graduation, and who has fulfilled the requirements for temporary membership during any 3 out of 4 semesters, and who has a grade point ratio in all junior college work of 2.3 or above, or who has a grade point ratio of 2.5 or above for all junior college work regardless of the number of semesters of temporary membership.

Dry Gulch Plan, Various Reports Made To Council

Reports on basketball awards, student handbook, Dry Gulch Day, and the Contra Costa Conference were made to the Executive Council at a meeting Thursday. Bob Weichers presided at the meeting, and the reports were given by Jack Evans, Ronald Blood, Bob Deeble, and Bob Hoffman.

The council considered, under old business, the problem of sending a representative to the Long Beach Conference, to be held April 26, 27, and 28. The Long Beach Conference is a follow-up of the Contra Costa Conference held last weekend. Also discussed were the padded chairs on the student terrace, and the leaving of trays and debris on the student union.

Brought to the attention of the council, under new business, was the problem of trash that accumulates during social affairs. A committee was appointed to look into the situation.

Summer School May Be Offered

BULLETIN: It was decided last week's meeting not to offer summer school this year.

At least 16 students are needed for each class if there is to be a summer session, said Mr. Raymond Sanders, prospective dean of the summer school.

A meeting of the County Education Board was held last Friday and plans for the summer school were discussed. Mr. Sanders, who was present at the meeting, explained that a commission of the board will decide in a meeting this week if the summer school will be held.

As for the courses to be offered, the students' interests will decide which courses will be included in the curriculum. Any student interested in enrolling the summer session is requested to sign on the list posted in the office and show which course he is interested in taking.

Operetta Cast Selection Made

The leading players for the operetta, "H.M.S. PINAFORE," have been announced for the opening by Philip Stubblefield.

The players and their parts are as follows: Beverly Groom, Josephine; Mrs. Phillip Lang, Buttercup; Renee Bouvier, Rebe; Bob Bowman, Ralph; John Robinson, the captain; Don Branch, Sir Joseph; Philip Lang, Dick Deadey; Bill Sublett, the boatman.

The assistant director is Bob Bowman and the business manager is John Robinson, Maurice Davis, Nancy Dunlap and Boba Hoffman will handle the set. Evelyn Spatz and Betty Robinson are in charge of publicity.

The College chorus and the night school chorus are working together on the production. There has been a large turnout for the night class, according to Mr. Stubblefield, music director. He also announced that the class is now closed for further enrollment.

The Shasta Symphony is providing the accompaniment for the opera which is scheduled for the early part of May.

FORUM TO PRESENT

1. James Quillen, professor of education at Stanford University, will be the guest speaker at the next Forum Series to be held Thursday, April 26, in the Shasta College music room.

FIRST GOOD WILL TOUR PRESENTS ASSEMBLIES

This week marked the first good will tours made by the college and dramatic departments of nearby schools. Tuesday the group traveled to Weaverville and presented an assembly before the high school student body. The program consisted of several band numbers, under the direction of Philip Stubblefield, and a play, under the direction of Virginia Choppell.

The group performed for Corning and Red Bluff high schools Thursday, and has been engaged for future appearances at Fall River, Dunsmuir, Weed, Yreka, and Mt. Shasta.

PUBLIC SCHOOLS WEEK PLANS MADE

"A Better World Through Better Schools" is the theme of the 33rd annual observance of Public Schools Week, to be held April 23 to 27, it was announced recently by Mr. Milton Black and Mr. Oscar Matson of the Public Schools Week Committee.

Though all parents and friends will be invited to visit the college and high school anytime during the week, the culminating event will be held Friday evening, April 27. Both high school and college open house will be the same evening, but neither will offer any special auditorium program.

College Students May Not Be Drafted After All -- Exams Slated For May 26

A new draft law just released from Washington D.C. states the following: deferments of most freshmen entering college next fall; of sophomores who are in the upper half of their freshman class; half of all students who were in the upper two-thirds of their sophomore class; and, of seniors who were in the upper three-fourths of their junior class.

Tests will be given on May 26, and will be repeated on June 16 and 20 for students who have started their college careers and plan on continuing.

Shasta College students who want to take the test may go to Chico and take it there at Chico State College.

The official list of certified schools issued recently in Washington lists only Humboldt State College at Arcata and Chico State in this part of California.

However, Dr. C. A. Colyer, college president, said that he would work through the Redding Chamber of Commerce to get the local school added to the list. He said that since Shasta College had been in operation only since last fall, it probably had not been played yet on the government lists.

Meantime, a 10-day wait is in prospect for students who want to apply for deferment.

The selective service board has said draft boards will not have the application cards until April 12.

In announcing that students wishing to take the test should apply to their draft boards immediately, the agency neglected to explain that it meant immediately upon distribution of application cards to the boards on April 12.

The application blanks, in the form of double postcards, already are properly addressed, to a Princeton, N.J., examining service. All the student needs to do is get his card from his draft board, fill out the required information, attach a one-cent stamp, and mail.

The selective service announcement did not give a "passing" grade. The exam is the "intelligence quotient" type, designed to determine the applicant's learning ability rather than his stock of knowledge.

At JC Conference

Nine students from Shasta College attended the Northern California Junior College Student Government Conference at the Contra Costa Junior College, last Saturday. Those who attended were: Evelyn Spatz, Ronald Blood, Bob Weichers, Barbara Harrison, Barbara Hoffman, Dale St. John, Dave Wang, Norman Peterson, Mr. Oscar Matson, and Mrs. Manya Nottestine.

The keynote speaker was Dr. Herman Spindt, director of admissions at the University of California. Problems of junior college government were discussed at an all-day Saturday meeting.

The students met in panel discussion groups before lunch. In discussing student union buildings, it was brought out that Shasta College was the only college represented at this conference that had a student union.

The Shasta College delegates went for a tour of San Francisco before returning home. Shasta College hopes to send a delegate to the state convention in Long Beach the latter part of April.

TWO PLAYS PRESENTED IN STUDENT ASSEMBLY

An assembly was presented recently to the student body by members of the music and dramatic departments. The music, provided by the school orchestra, included the following numbers: a Spanish march; saxophone solo; trumpet solo, and other numbers.

Two one-act plays, directed by Miss Virginia Choppell, were given by the following students: Ronald Blood, Thomas Wherrett, Jay Townsend, Evelyn Spatz, John Andrews, Marie Davison, and John Pawley.

BIRTHDAYS CELEBRATED BY CLUB

Four members of the "Twenty-Five Plus Club" celebrated their March birthdays at lunch recently. Marian Joyce from Central Valley brought a beautifully decorated birthday cake for the occasion. Those celebrating birthdays were Helen Curtis, Doris Bangs, Marian Joyce, and Bessie Doner. Guests invited were Virginia Choppell, Jean Noel, and Georgia Cook.

CAMPUS COMMENTS

Many students on the campus were seeking some kind of diversion from studies in the way of a spring activity. Two or three enterprise students combined their talents and evolved the idea of a spring activity which would be called Dry Gulch Days. This activity would last three or four days and would mean the growing of beards for the male population.

These two enterprise students went ahead and planned complete activities for two or three days. The activities were varied and would definitely interest each student in some capacity, ranging from a swimming contest to a dance.

Two students, upon being approached to help plan a spring activity, did all this by themselves. Now, like to say no one has any interest in the proposed activity. These two students have wasted time and effort, and if ever approached again will undoubtedly say no to any proposal.

It seems that some individual students on the campus can't enjoy any activity as a standing-beard-growing celebration. This small portion shouldn't discourage the rest.

The fortunate ones who know what Dry Gulch Days would mean as an entertaining activity for spring, could help immensely by letting the remainder of the student body know what a good deal this is for us.

In anything, demand comes before supply, so let's have a demand for the Dry Gulch Days celebration on campus and supply the interest to make this event possible.

Duped again! The title for the proposed college celebration is "Dry Gulch Days." To the consternation of the promoters, the plan is meeting some opposition of the sour grapes variety...

Shasta Forms New Chapter

Recently, a new chapter of Alpha Gamma Sigma, California Junior College Honor Scholarship Society, was formed here. It is needless to relate all of the opportunities the society will offer to students eligible for membership. Besides the many functions sponsored by the group, the members will have a chance to receive recognition for the scholarship and ability, as well as become more active members of the student body.

In the first meeting held last week, tentative plans for future activities for the remainder of the year were discussed, but they will be limited depending on how fast the chapter can organize.

With the explanation of their Greek letters, Alpha Sigma Gamma—standing for good character, knowledge, and good judgment—Shasta College's newest organization will prove a definite asset.

Annabelle Graves, Top Student, Plans on Teaching as a Career

Annabelle Graves, the student who received first honors for the first term at Shasta College, is working for a special credential in business education. Her major field is business with specialization in secretarial science, and a minor in home economics.

Miss Graves' program for the first semester included principles of accounting, English 1-A, biology, American history, general psychology, penmanship, and physical education.

She plans to finish her education at Chico State College, and would like to teach subjects such as shorthand, typing, etc., in high school.

Miss Graves has no special hobbies, but likes to get in the kitchen occasionally. She also plays the piano.

Annabelle Graves is considering teaching in elementary schools—football, basketball, and baseball. "For myself, I like to swim and enjoy a good, rough game of basketball," she said.

She attended Yreka High School and her home town is Hilt, Siskiyou County. Although Miss Graves rides a bus 30 miles to school she attends games and dances on week-ends, but finds it hard to get in during the week in the evening. She has a student body card and would like to be more active in extra-curricular activities.

FLY-TYING CLASS MEETS AT SHASTA

Enrollments are still being taken in the fly-tying and fishing class recently organized at Shasta college night school, and is meeting on both Monday and Wednesday. The course includes fly-tying and rod repair and any of the activities connected with fishing. With the advent of daylight saving time, instruction in plug casting and fly casting will also be given.

Mr. Maurice Davis, instructor, urges more parents to participate in this class along with their children, as the college does not receive financial reimbursement for juniors attending, but only for adults.

Group Discusses Student Housing

Problems of housing of college students were taken up at the monthly meeting of the Shasta College Housing Committee recently.

A recommended cost for rooms and board was set by the committee. An effort will be made to find someone interested in converting a large house into a dormitory or boarding house for students. Places where students can work for room and board will also be found by the committee.

Living costs for students in Redding were compared with those in Chico, San Jose, and Humboldt State Colleges, and were found to be somewhat higher in Redding. However, the housing committee will be constantly working to improve housing conditions for students.

“There is no shortage of rooms for students right now,” said Dr. G. A. Collyer, “but we are trying to find rooms with privacy for students, rooms with reasonable rent within walking distance of college and the downtown shopping district.” Dr. Collyer will soon begin giving talks to high school seniors in Northern California, and he must be able to assure prospective college students places to live in Redding.

The housing committee is composed of faculty members, students, and interested citizens. Among those on the committee are: Dr. Collyer, Mrs. Marva Notestine, Mr. Kenneth Tinkler, Mrs. Roy Hunt, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Noel, Mr. Merrill Nelson, Mrs. Lucy Hunt, Mrs. Leeland Monier, Mrs. Robert Hoskins, Mrs. Harry Haselmeier, Mrs. A. C. Haynes, and Mrs. Mary Ulrich.

Father of Shasta Is Featured In Series of Argosy Stories

By GEORGE DUNN

Anyone who has read "Argosy" sometime during the last 12 months may have noticed the story running in the "Court of Last Resort" feature. The series pertains to one of the most controversial trials in the turbulent history of Lake County. It relates the pros and cons pertaining to the murder of two law officers and the subsequent trial of the Brite brothers who were accused of, and sentenced for, this crime.

By way of explanation, it should be said that this feature is presented by a hand-picked group of criminal experts headed by Erle Stanley Gardner, noted writer and criminal lawyer. Their prime directive is the investigation and clarification of any criminal cases in which there is evidence of a miscarriage of justice. Thus far the group has compiled an impressive record of pardons for moving upon his oath of office and upheld justice as he believed it. In describing this action Erle Stanley Gardner said, it salutes the memory of this man, who was willing to go into political oblivion rather than prosecute two men whom he felt has committed no crime.

This man based his refusal to prosecute on the lack of conclusive evidence and the incoherence of some. He felt that the officers, in attempting to arrest the Brite brothers on an assault and battery charge, had been unreasonably brutal. (The Brite brothers were badly beaten prior to the killings.) He also felt that there was a great deal of evidence supporting the Brites which was not introduced or taken into account. In an interview he said, “As a lawyer, as a woodsman, and as a matter of constitutional rights, I will say that...”

Prospector, Hunter Is Shasta's Co-ed

Wanda Grooms, a student at Shasta College, is an outdoor girl who likes fishing, hunting, swimming, and prospecting. In summertime she packs her gun, field telescope, gold pan, and grub on her back and goes out after bears, deer, elk, and mule deer.

STUDENTS BAKE PIES FOR EDUCATION MEET

Perhaps you have noticed the tantalizing aroma in the corridors in the direction of the home economics room. Those were pies baked by the 14 students who are taking cooking from Mrs. Corine James.

Among the 14 are six men students. Mrs. James said, “The men are doing every bit as well as the women students. They are enthusiastic about cooking and have a lot of fun doing it.”

Recently the cooking students made pies for the General Education Institute. Some of the pies were also sold in the cafeteria.

lych mobs to see justice done, who chose the abandonment of his case; rather than condone injustice? This true martyr of democracy was the late James Davis, the father of an instructor in Shasta College. The instructor?...
Possibly the most outstanding individual caught up in the vortex of confusion and mass hysteria resulting from the killings was the courageous District Attorney of Siskiyou County. This man, in the face of contrary public opinion bordering upon fanatism, stood unswerving in his determination to do his duty.

"Who was this man, who through the deciphering of old newspapers taught himself to read, who then went on to graduate from the University of California, who defied the biased wrath of the press, and in the face of a determined public opinion, stood firmly for justice?"

Wanda gets her deer every hunting season, usually on Bully Chooch Mountain, her favorite spot. She will never forget the excitement of shooting her first deer. "The first deer I ever killed was on Bully Chooch mountain a few years ago. My father, another hunter, and I had been hunting out towards Gunsight Peak. As we were eating our lunch in a pass, my father suddenly threw down his sandwich and began shooting at a three-point buck. After the first shot, Dad's gun wouldn't go off. So I shot the deer," said Wanda.

Wanda once trailed a bear to his hide-out, but not being sure whether it was open season on bears, she didn't kill it. Another hunter came along and shot the bear.

Born in Portland, Oregon, Wanda attended schools in Trinity County before graduating from Shasta Union High School. She attended Museum Art School in Portland. Winning a prize for weaving at the fair inspired Wanda to continue her hobby, and since then she has sold a number of woven articles.

During summers, Wanda has worked at the Harlong Ammunition Depot, a woolen mill in Portland, and a fruit cannery in Sacramento. She is taking a business and selling course, and plans to have a business of her own some day.

Shasta College opened its spring tennis practice schedule with a close victory over the perennial high school champs, Anderson, Wednesday. The Knights won 5 of 8 matches, dropped three, and tied two. Evening School Enrollment Is Over 1200 This Session

More than 1200 persons are enrolled in the Shasta College Evening School this fall, according to Mr. Raymond Sanders, principal, of the night school. They are taking 42 courses.

"The enrollment and attendance is above that of last year," Mr. Sanders explained. "We expect to add several new courses soon, and that will mean even a large enrollment." Classes in gunsmithing, ground school aviation, French, and German will be started soon, he said.

Among the new courses already added is a term of biology, silversmithing, and elementary music instruction for elementary teachers.

Most of the evening school students are older persons who have been out of school for a while but who wish to better themselves by taking courses offered. Some of the classes offer college credit to those who wish and who are capable of doing work on the college level.

Most of the courses are 100 series to encourage students interested in education.

First Football Game At Shasta

A game with the University of Oregon was held Tuesday. They are at home to San Francisco-raised Reddies for the first time.

For president, Keith Irwin, John Bachelor, George Wren, Vice President, WarREN Flett, and of the city of Redding.

Knights To Play Spartans Here Tonight In GVC Game

Shasta College will meet the Spartans from Placer College tonight in Shasta College's second league game. The game will start at 8 o'clock.

The Knights, despite their record of two losses to one victory, are reportedly a strong club. George Carvalho, who played first string for U.S.C. last year, along with Frank Camp, of Roseville High School, will be Shasta's defense a good weapon.

The Raiders have had several new men added this year, having two the first time, thus the record may not be what it seems now. Even though they may not be as good as the Reddies, they may be able to give them some hard running.

The game is expected to be a good one, and should be a good test for both teams.

Most Teachers Travel During Summer

This is the last week of the summer vacation for teachers who took time off and went on vacation. All the Shasta College teachers except Miss Mary M. Davis, who is at the University of Oregon, have returned to their teaching positions.

Miss Davis is continuing her work at the University of Oregon.

The college is now preparing for next year's classes, and the staff is already busy with preparatory work.
Ends In 6-6 Tie

In their first football game in history, the Shasta Knights battled the Chico 25 to a 6-6 tie on the local field Oct. 19.

Outweighed on the line, the Knights did not last long then from pushing over for a touchdown in the first six minutes of the game. Dick Kane, Shasta's halfback, gained 13 yards, and the halfback, Sammy Kauffman, gained 17 yards from the end zone for Shasta's six points and Shasta's first touchdown in the history of the college.

The running play for the conversion was stopped cold.

With four minutes remaining in the second quarter, Chico's quarterback, Diego, tossed a short pass to Florida for a touchdown and the equalizing score. The attempted conversion was unsuccessful.

Neither team threatened in the third period. Shasta's aerial game in the final moments of the game scored the visitors, but it failed to click as Dick Laramore's long heaves did not find receivers.

The Shastaons acquitted themselves creditably in their first game. The Knight line of Ira Blalock, (standing at all evening), John McMahon, Lou Chil- li, Willard Overholtzer, Bill Pincelli, LeVene Spears and Chico Kone, and the starting backfield of Buddy Hughes, Dick Ester, Jim Williams, and Bill Millhouse played a good game. And so did Ron Koenig, lineman, Don Kimball, Dick Laramore, Bob Sewall, Tom Wilcox, and Roy Broxer, when they gave the starters a rest.

For College Play

The importance of playing football will be greatest in the history of Shasta College in its final game on Oct. 29, at 2 p.m. Shasta will face a three-game challenge with top citizens to the best of its ability. The body has decided to play for a class dinner.

WANT TO WRITE?

The Shasta line meetings on its half for someone who wants to write for a class dinner. The important feature of being famous is one of the features of the college program. The band is a project of the journalism department. The band is being used at football games and will provide opportunities for many good loughs.

GAME CALLED OFF

The proposed football game between Shasta College and Cal Aggie JV's, scheduled for Oct. 20, has just been called off. Cal officials notified Carl Gilmore, athletic coordinator, today that they find it impossible to field a junior varsity team this year, much to the regret. Shasta officials are trying to find another team to play on that date.

For their practice field has been "Beau

The winning was Miss V. Campbell, Coach Bill Robb, who took two seniors in summer school in Idaho, and attended a ten-week course at Cal Poly, two weeks at Stanford and graduated. He spent some time on the schools' staff and spent some time at the school's staff.

At a meeting of the Student Senate, the club discussed the possibility of holding a special meeting for the club Tuesday.

The club members decided to sell hot dogs at the Shasta game.

On Nov. 15, the Shasta game will be played, and the club will be back in action.

The program will be available at the local office if you are interested.

PROGRAMES FOR SALE

Programs for the Shasta-Placeer game tonight will be sold at the field by members of the journalism class that is sort of short of cash. You can buy the lineup for a dime.
EDITORS

The students who are presently enrolled at this college have the privilege of supporting its first football team, and in just two days they can take advantage of this fact by attending two days they can take advantage of this fact by attending Placer Junior College, on the home field. The team has made a good showing thus far. We cannot let it down by disinterested or lack of confidence. So let’s see everyone out at the field come Saturday rooting for the Knights. And by everyone, we mean you and you and YOU!

Your Prexy Speaks

The associated students of Shasta College have shown fine spirit through their purchases of student body cards in the past few weeks. To date, 80 percent of the students have obtained their membership card. This is certainly an excellent showing. However, we have set our goal to sell at least 90 percent this year.

To those of you who have not yet acquired an A.S.S.C. card we urge you to consider the practical side of its acquisition before the close of the campaign. Your card at $7.50 can save you more than you pay, if you use it to full advantage. Cut rates at the games and free issues of your school papers are among the values card ownership offers you. Most important of all, is that you must possess a student body card before you may enter into any school activities.

Although the condition of our student union has improved greatly from what it was, we still have a long way to go before we can be proud of the place.

We realize that the lack of ash trays contributed to the disorder, but the addition of many new trays this week should remedy that situation.

Just the same our “U” is still a mess—especially the floor. At times you would think the place was a giant rubbish can. How come??? Well, maybe it’s just thoughtlessness, or too much hurriedness. Whatever the cause let’s banish it for good. It’d be much nicer to relax in a nice clean place, wouldn’t it?

Also congratulations to our grid squad who have done a great job so far this season. And I know my confidence in their future successes is shared by the entire student body.

SALESMAANSHIP TAUGHT IN SHASTA BOOKSTORE

The book store at Shasta College is a class in salesmanship, with students acting as clerks and learning through practical experience the fundamentals of stock keeping, advertising, and display. Jesse Praisau is the student manager and is in charge of the store under the supervision of Mr. L. Framling, the instructor.

This store is here for the convenience of the students and handles most general school supplies. Here are some of the items the store has now: school belts, decals or Shasta College stickers, pens and pencils, binder and typing paper. Term papers and blue books are ordered and will be in stock soon.

Anyone wanting to sit in the rooster’s section at the games will need a rooster’s cap which sells for $1.00.

The book store is a non-profit organization and what money is made goes into the student body fund.

A Student Observes

His Fellow Students

Some of you who have changed schools only twice or thrice in your scholastic careers may not have had the opportunity to observe the trait in students upon which I propose to expand in this article; but to us who have changed schools many times, at least to me, there is one trait in people met in schools that constantly surprises and pleases. I like to call it the “shining through trait.”

Take our young but booming institution, for example. On my first foray through the halls, being strange to the place and people, I must confess that my first impression of the students was “Ye Gods!” And that impression stuck for a few days.

But then I began to make acquaintances, and the very people who had at first appeared least attractive began, bless their hearts, to assert their “shining throughness.” And gradually their faults which had at first shown strongly, began to decrease in importance, and the virtues began to make their appearance, until finally the faults were at a minimum, hidden beneath the virtues.

The foregoing may or may not make sense to you, for the idea was so abstract that I had difficulty putting it into words.

But at any rate, that’s how the students at Shasta College strike me. —L.F.

SMOKING REGULATIONS ANNOUNCED BY OFFICE
Smoking regulations for Shasta College have been announced by Dr. G. A. Collyer, president.

According to the state code, smoking may be permitted in designated areas of a junior college campus. The student union, dining room, and terrace have been so designated for smoking. The west entrance porches are also open for occasional smoking, but it is requested that students do not make the front entrance area a smoking area.

"The cooperation of the students on this matter has been fine to date, and we hope it will continue this way. We especially feel that it is important to keep the front entrance clean," commented Dr. Collyer.

OPPORTUNITIES GALORE FOR ASPIRING MUSICIANS
All aspiring musicians are greatly needed to join the college band or chorus, Mr. P. Stubblefield, music director, recently reported.

If you play, or wish to learn to play a musical instrument, here is your opportunity to show school spirit and take part in school activities. More clarinets, cornets, and drums could still be used in the band.

The chorus, with 19 members now, is still badly in need of sopranos. If you sing, and wish to participate in the girls' chorus, Mr. Stubblefield asks that you see him immediately.

SC Radio Class On Air Weekly

Members of the Shasta College Radio Workshop, directed by Miss Virginia Chapell, are on the air Saturday mornings at 10:45 every week with a program for and about Shasta College.

Last Saturday the class presented a program consisting of interviews of students, a speech by Dr. G. Collyer, a sports brief by Glen Dieslehors, and a fashion report by Georganne Porter.

These programs are just getting under way so the rough edges will not be smoothed off until later in the semester. The cast members are students who have expressed an interest in radio work and who gain actual experience through these programs. A tape recording is made during the preceding week and sent to KVCV for the weekly broadcast.

Each broadcast is written and directed by a member of the class, subject to Miss Chapell's approval. Every other week a play is broadcast with the members of the class cast in the roles it calls for. Most of these persons have had no experience before and are doing the best they can. The week after each play a program is made up of school events and activities, with general information about the school and the main object.

On Saturday, a play by Lucy Cuddy, called "The Loom of Allah," will be presented.

PEP MEMBERS PREPARE

"Up to now the Pep Club has no constitution," declared Georganne Porter, co-chairman, "but we are working on it now. We are also trying to find a name which will be connected with the college, for our club."

Miss Porter and Helen Gershmanoff are temporary co-chairmen of the group. The song leaders, Lou Pence, Lois Ramsberg, Margie Cook, and Bobby Treat, are also members.

These students are planning a big rally tomorrow for the first league game at home Friday night.

Red Skins of Vallejo Edge Knights In League Opener

Shasta College, playing its first Golden Valley Conference football game, lost to Vallejo College last week when the Knights were unable to get rolling until late in the game. The score was 27 to 19 in the game was played in Vallejo.

Vallejo scored first in the opening quarter when Bobby Lavov, Redskin streak, made a long run for the tally. The conversion was good. Shasta immediately began a drive of its own. Dick Estes finally skirted right end for 22 yards and a touchdown. Les Van Meer's conversion try was blocked, and

With Buddy Hughes finally getting the Knight attack under way, the Shastans ripped through the Vallejo line for two quick touchdowns. Hughes scored on a quarterback sneak, and later Estes tallied again. Van Meer kicked one extra point. However, the Shasta rally, was stopped when Vallejo intercepted a pass in the end zone.

Loss early in the second period of Ira Blalock, Shasta center, hurt the Knights tremendously. Had he played, the result of the game might have been different, his teammates say.

Placer will move another team into the victory column, unless the game ends in a tie.

Pres. Collyer Gives Message To SC Students

Welcome to Shasta!

Here it is—another year. No longer can we say that this is the first year of Shasta for we have passed through that turbulent yet happy experience together, always looking forward to new experiences. From now on we shall be able to look back as well as forward. In a sense this has certain advantages for while there is great value in newness and innovation, there is also something fine about memories and traditions. As I look back from day to day of this brand new year, I see so many opportunities for this year's Shastans to inaugurate many new 'firsts' that I am not worried about our opportunities to cut new inches that will have a chance to live on in Shasta history.

We have the advantage of last year's experiences—everything in the physical, mental, social and spiritual realms that was accomplished—i.e., a fine group of student leaders and a splendid faculty to help us build. We have shown a tremendous surge of enthusiasm in our student club days. Many things lie before us.

A football season—basketball and other sports—plays—musicals—dances—

SC In First Game Tonight

Well, here it is—Shasta's first collegiate football game! It took the Redding newest institution just one year to produce a football team. The opponents tonight are the Chico State Junior Varsity, and they are wearing cardinal helmets, white jerseys, and cardinal pants. The JV's will outweigh the Knights in the backfield about 18 pounds per man, however, the Shasta line averages the same as the visitors' line—180 pounds.

Shasta's coach is Bill Rhine. By way of introduction to fans in this area, Bill served in the U.S.N.R. for three years. He played football at San Luis Obispo Jr. College where he was named all-league fullback, at San Jose State where he led the team in yardage gained, and at St. Mary's Pre-Flight, where he was starting right half, and played with Frankie Albert, Vic Bottani, and other stars. His coaching experience included three years at San Luis Obispo, Jr. College and one year at Waterville. In addition to being a football star, Rhine established several records on the track.

But now about Shasta's players. Most of them have had little or no football experience, the coach will tell you. One boy didn't even know how to kick the football shoe laces, so Bill helped him out, and another didn't know how to throw his points.

However, the others have been practicing hard the past couple of weeks.

SC Enrollment Is Increasing; New Record Set

Students from eight states and 13 California counties are enrolled at Shasta College, Redding, this term, it was disclosed by Dr. G. A. Collyer, president of the college.

The present enrollment of 340 is about 50 over that of last year at this time of the School year.

California, Oregon, Utah, Virginia, New Mexico, Oklahoma, Indiana and Louisiana are represented among the student body. The leader, of course, is California.

A year ago one-third of the student body came from sections other than the Redding area. This year one-half of the students come from other places.

From Tehama County come 39 students; Siskiyou, 12; Trinity, 12. Others are from Glenn, Yuba, Butte, San Diego, Santa Clara, Monterey, Napa, Mendocino, and Shasta counties.

Most of the Shasta students have their homes in Shasta County out of the college.

Students may still enrol at the college, Dr. Collyer said. The first day for enrollment is in class for credit is October 1. By that time it is expected that 150 will be registered.
not sum up all of it, but this one thing I can say. We want people to recognize something distinctive about Shasta. Let us be ever friendly, cooperative and lend the helping hand and mind to all who enter. It is our belief that this educational institution can help any individual who enters its doors to be a better man or woman for having been here. May every teacher and student join in this endeavor for the school year 1951-1952.

—G. A. COLLIER

NOMINATIONS MADE BY FRESHMEN CLASS

Nominations for freshman class officers were made yesterday. The nominees are:

Four Teachers Added To Staff

Four new teachers have joined the staff at Shasta College this fall.

Mr. William F. Rhyme will take over the coaching job vacated by Bob Tharle. Coach Rhyme has played at several colleges, including St. Mary's pre-flight one year, San Jose State two years, Son. Luis Obispo one year, and semi-pro ball two years. Upon graduation from college, he was on the Chicago Bears draft, and he had offers from the San Francisco 49ers to play ball.

Mr. Douglas Patterson will be the only part-time teacher hired this fall. He is also an instructor at Shasta Union High School. Before coming to Shasta College, he was an instructor at Antioch and Los Gatos Junior College.

Mr. Eugene Leach is another instructor coming to Shasta from Los Gatos Junior College. He will teach chemistry, mathematics, and physics. Mr. Leach is a graduate of the University of Redlands.

Miss Anna Tufafo, who has been teaching at John Muir College the last three years, will teach English, history, and psychology.

ANOTHER FIRST!

It is not only a football game between the Chico State JV's and the Knights tonight—it is another "First" for Shasta College. Incidentally, this is the fourth sport attempted officially by Shasta. The others were basketball, track, and tennis.

of the Knights came from Redding, but other towns also provided the Shastrians with material. Booster Hughes, starting quarterback, comes from Woodland, and so does Jim Williams, probably the fastest back on the squad. The other two backs, Dick Estes and Bill Millhouse, are from Redding. On the line, Dick Kline is from Alturas, Bill Cagel and one from Chico, Virginia, and Bill Prindle, from South Bend, Indiana. Fred Blalock, Tom Gallerani, John McInerney, and LaVerne Spears, as everyone knows, come from Redding.

In addition to the starting 11, Don Kimball, Ray Browning and Dick LaMurra are expected to see a lot of action in the backfield. Ronnie Koening will be in there as a line backer, and Bob Sewall and Don Wilcox will help to bolster the line. Others too many see action.

More than 65% of the students purchased their student body cards during the first week of school. Thus far 211 students have bought cards, declared John Robinson, college president. "This compares favorably with last year's record."

Robinson stated that a goal has been set up to sell at least 90% of the student body cards this year. He explained further that card holders will have a definite advantage over non-card holders. For example, he pointed out, "the prices for the school games will be $1.00 for non-card holders. Students who possess cards will pay only 25c."

FOR CAFETERIA DINNER

"Dinners will be served at the college cafeteria if a total of 20 or more students sign up for it," Mrs. Flaherty, cafeteria manager, announced. At present, 15 signatures for the evening meal have been recorded; therefore, five more requests will make the plan a reality.

Mrs. Flaherty stated that on a four-weeks basis (20 meals), the dinners will cost $7, if paid for in advance. Individual dinners will be priced at $1.05 each otherwise.

Any student interested in eating dinners at the cafeteria should sign up in the office immediately.

TEACHERS' RECEPTION SET

Mrs. L. L. Reynolds, president of the Shasta Union High School Parent-Teacher Association, invites teachers to the Annual Teacher's Reception at Memorial Hall on Sunday, September 30, from 3 to 6 o'clock. A musical program will be presented and refreshments served.

DANCE AFTER GAME

A big dance will be held after this game tonight, at the college. The Aggies are the hosts, and they expect students and friends to be there. The football players may come too if their coaches allow them to do so. Nick Vodoch's orchestra will play, and refreshments will be served.

THIS IS CATTY!

One Shasta College need is for very kind of cats-like ones, that like to have a lot of them around the house.

The other day to her anatomy class a big box was brought in. When the instructor opened it, he found just what he ordered—some nice big, dead cats for "operation" purposes. And the cackled well, she took one look, paled, turned, and ran to the office where she immediately dropped the course.

Shasta Keeps Moving Forward

On September 10 Shasta College commenced its second year in history, and as we look back to the previous September, we find a marked difference between the two openings.

Many people, last fall, were doubtful of Shasta’s opening on schedule, but it did amid the pounding of hammers and other construction noises. This year all major construction work is finished and all that remains to be done is a few finishing touches.

Last year’s sophomore class had only 31 members at the start of the year, which is, of course, understandable in the case of a new school. But this year the two classes are nearly equal, thus bringing the total attendance to well over 300, or about 90 more students than were registered last September.

Another difference between Shasta’s first and second openings is the newly formed football team. The team is out to bring fame and fortune to S. C. in the field of sports. But in order to bring fame and fortune to our school, the athletes must have the loyal support of the whole student body. So here’s to the Knights gridders, Shasta’s newest addition! — E.L.

October 25, 26 Dates For Play

Students of Shasta College will present "The Importance of Being Earnest" by Oscar Wilde, on Thursday and Friday nights, October 25 and 26. It is a delightfully funny full-fledged romantic farce that will last until the curtain falls on the last act.

The play will take place at Shasta College at 8 p.m., and will be followed by refreshments.

The cast is as follows: John Worth, J. P., Ronald Blood; Algon Quirk; Charles Hawkins, Liz Bland; Virginia Kennedy, Tom Rogers, Larry Mac, and Mike Stuart.

This committee will lay the foundation for the freshmen class at the first class meeting which was held the opening week of school.

The meeting was held to discuss the requirements of the freshmen class and the officers needed to start the organization.

Exchanges

From the Pweeney Express to Sacramento, students can choose from the heading of SKILLED STUDENTS TO ESCAPE DRAFT.

Students who may be called for induction into the armed forces should remind themselves that possible deferment may be obtained if it is the student’s own responsibility to obtain his draft card.

Business courses are required for all students.

SC Booth Shown At County Fair

Shasta College went down in the books as the first school to be represented at the Shasta County Fair when it exhibited its information booth at the fair on September 7, 8, and 9 this year.

John Robinson, study body president, originated the idea, and Elnor Fly, with the help of Dr. G. A. Colyer, helped develop it.

Craza paper in the school colors was green and blue, decorated the booth. All types of literature concerning the college were made available to the public. Pictures of various college activities were displayed along with samples of student art and craft work.

A new law regarding college students’ induction into the Armed Services has recently been passed by Congress. An air of mystery seems to cloud this law since it has been reported that the San Francisco Draft Board, the Local Board, and a local lawyer are unable to interpret the full meaning of the law.

Colorado’s, however, have nothing to fear as far as this new ruling is concerned. The armed services are still in process of drafting in accordance with the old regulations. College students doing well in essential subjects are comparatively safe from induction, according to draft officials.

KNOWING THESE THINGS WILL SAVE YOU TIME

New students in case you haven’t already been informed, the following tips on school procedures might help make your way smoother for you.

1. Students are to use the student pay telephone, list of the student union, for their calls.

2. Students who wish to have notices included in the daily bulletin, should have the information approved by Mr. E. Stumpf or Dr. G. A. Colyer, and turned into the office by 4 p.m. the previous day.

3. Mrs. Evelyn Twaddle, coordinator of work placement, may be seen from 12:40 to 2:30 p.m. Students seeking jobs are urged not to come to the high school to see Mrs. Twaddle.

DINKS, ROOTERS CAPS

SHASTA COLLEGE FAD

Has anybody noticed the large amount of dinks and rooster caps on hand in the bookstore? In case the freshmen haven’t heard, they are supposed to wear them at all times while on the campus, except when they are in the classroom. The proper way to wear them is on the back of the head, with the visor extending straight up.

The rooster caps are part of the same material as the dinks, which is gabardine. This material does not shrink readily in case of rain, so if it does rain during some of the football games the dinks can be worn with comfort. Shasta’s first football game will be coming up soon, so let’s be prepared. Buy your hats now!
The stage managers are David Saul, while Ronald Blood and Frank Pickern are property managers. Costume mistress is Betty Wasmuth, and the publicity handlers are Marie Davidson and Charles Salinos. Promoters will be Barbara Carr and Betty Wasmuth, and the director in charge is Miss Virginia K. Chappell.

This will be the first in a series of plays to be presented by the college. Miss Chappell said.

RECEPTION GIVEN FOR NEW STUDENTS

All freshmen and new students were welcomed last Friday night at the Freshmen Reception which was held in the college music room from 9:30 p.m. to as possible. “The lack of ash trays has been one hindrance, but will soon be taken care of,” he commented.

The student body president urged all students to co-operate in keeping the union a clean and orderly meeting place.

1:00 a.m. Neal Bayless and his orchestra furnished the music for the evening.

Freshmen students were admitted free if they were wearing their dinks and carrying their student body cards.

Elina Figg was in charge of the arrangements. She was assisted by Laura Seward, Helen Gershonoff, Georgina Porter, and John Blalock.

SC Freshmen Give Their First Impressions of Shasta College

By VIRGINIA KENNEDY

When confronted by our reporter, the majority of freshmen admitted their impression of Shasta College was very favorable. In their own words, various "dink wearing newcomers" remarked as follows:

LOIS RANBERG—"I think Shasta College is wonderful, especially the "U"!

JACK GOLENOR—"I like the breaks between classes.

ROBIN HARRIS—"Independence. That's what I like."

BERNAL LEE—"All I can say about the place is that it's certainly new and different!"

ED MAUNDER—"I'd like it fine—if I could find an amobea in zoo lab."

DOROTHY NORTON—"I like the whole atmosphere, especially the "U". I don't care for the clowns though."

MARILYN HARDWICK—"It's sure an improvement over high school."

RAY WAHL—"It's a beautiful place."

JIM ANDERS—"It's a pretty good school. I like that time off!"

NADINE CARPENTER—"I'm not sure yet. It's so different. I would like a bigger student union though."

JOAN BARRY—"I like the free periods."

BETTY WILCOX—"I'm undecided so far. I wish they had dorms here."

DOLORES BARTLE—"I like it a lot better than high school. I especially like the freedom of the student "U"."

CLAIRE SMILEY—"It's sure much more advanced than high school."

DOLORES HENRY—"You have to get up too early for classes and stay up too late for homework."

OROVILLE CASE—"You can smoke here!"

BRUCE BROWN—"I like the spare time and the women!"

BEVERLY LEACH—"I think they could add something. I haven't decided his name yet!"

VICKY BROWN—"The large variety of men—it's great!"

GENE LOURENC—"I like everything about it, especially the teachers."

DON LE BRUN—"I think the student "U" is a good deal. It's a nice building too."

DON FADO—"It's the prettiest fushia colored school I've ever attended. I think some minor nuisances should be done away with—classes and teachers."

BETTY BUTLER—"The students are very friendly here. I like the freedom; it's so different from high school."

Activities Held For SC Freshmen

Fresh students become full fledged members of the student body last week when they underwent what is commonly known as "freshmen initiation."

At the opening of the school the student council made a motion that all freshmen be required to wear "dinks" (school caps of green and gray) for the first two weeks following registration and every Friday thereafter.

Names of freshmen who came to school without their "dinks" were promptly recorded. All students who went down in the list were dealt with at the student body assembly Friday afternoon.

At this first official student body meeting of the year, talented upperclassmen provided the entertainment. The setting was a Kangaroo court, with Chuck Salinas acting as judge, and Morris Davis, Ernie Acutt, and Dave Wong acting as the jury.

The entertainers were Barbara Leach, Warren Georges, Verna Lee Benjamin, Salinas, and Dale St. John.

Dinkless freshmen who were "prosecuted" were Pat Boyd, Chris Davidson, Barbara Baker, Don Kimball, Ira Blalock, Margie Cook, Don Fado, Lou Ghiglieri, Virginia Kennedy, and Mary Ann Oules. To the relief of the fortunate freshmen the threats were greatly exaggerated.

The Freshmen Reception held Friday evening climaxed the first initiation ever to be held at Shasta College.

132 STUDENTS ALREADY HAVE PART-TIME JOBS

Approximately 132 jobs already have been filled by students of Shasta College. Down town offices and stores are giving 12 students credit in秘书 and merchant experience.

Mrs. Evelyn Twaddle, who has charge of student employment, has placed nearly everyone who has applied for work. Mrs. Twaddle teaches shorthand at Shasta Union High School and has an office at the school.

Hill Top Haze

The unavoidable hath cometh. Another nine months of education confront us. The relative amount of pleasure derived from this time is entirely the responsibility of those here enrolled. With last year's accomplishments as a criteria we should enjoy a stimulating sojourn in our fuschia palace.

It is customary at this time to utter some word of greeting to the fresh class. In fact it's much too customary! It is regrettable that our coeds are obscured whilst in the Union by the debris remaining on the tables. Or is it?? Anyhow the debris is regrettable—

An assembly was given to welcome the frosh. Hall—

Wanna be a football hero? Look at Wilcox cleft troddin face and reconsider.

In close competition for the imaginary title of "most baubeous car on campus" are Jack Evans' beloved Buick, known affectionately as the LEPER COLONY, and Gene Greenwell's propo- nasterous moss green monster.

Impossible as it may seem, most of the Sophs are completely normal, spas- tics and epileptics notwithstanding.— This Friday shall see the Knight grid- ders in their initial collision of the season. It is to be hoped that the attend- ance will surpass the pathetic turnout for the Frosh-Recept. scrimmage.

FOOTBALLERS COME FROM FAR AND WIDE

Redding is not the only place from which come Knight footballers. For instance, from John Day, Oregon, come Mark Carpenter and Roy Browning; from South Bend, Indiana, there is Bill Pinell; and from Alexandria, Virginia, the Knights have Willie Overholtzer.

Several other players have homes in California towns other than Redding: Larry Dunshee, Weaverville; Hal Steele, Shingletown; Jim Williams and Buddy Hughes, Weed; Ron Konig, Francis Schoelen, Red Bluff; Dick Kane, Alturas; Ralph Dorst, Lee Belau, Ken Frogla, Dunsmuir, and Norm Miller, Anderson.

Alpha Gamma Sigma, the California Junior College Honor Society, is off to a good start at Shasta College. The local chapter, Alpha Eta, was organized on April 19, and election of officers was held on April 23. The constitution has been written and approved by the Executive Council.

A state honor roll exists for those members whose grade point is 2.5 or over. In addition, the following students have been named to the honor roll: Lois Lowden, William Ferrill, Barbara Bradson, Robert Bertoldi, Babs Hoffman, Barbara Maxim, Barbara Leach, George Wren, Leland Ruth, Georgia Cook, David Saul, Don Tonjes, Marie Broderick, Evelyn Spatz, Janice Van Blokland, Marily Tyler, Ronald Blood, and Louise Peacock.

Everything Is All Set For Dry Gulch Day

Every four years "shooting irons" to grandmo's wedding dress will be displayed at the first annual Dry Gulch Day to be held at Shasta College and Lake Redding Park tomorrow, May 11. Turning from the present day of modern and progressive education to the hunting wild and woolly days of the Old West, festivities will begin at 1:10 when classes will be over officially for the day.

An assembly, highlighted by entertainment provided by the nominees for marshalls and the election of the marshalls.

First Operetta Is Huge Success

The performance of the Gilbert & Sullivan operetta, H. M. S. Pinafore, given in the Shasta Union High School auditorium on the evening of May 3, was another success to add to the list of Shasta College achievements. The operetta was produced through the combined efforts of Mr. Philip Stubblefield, music director at the college, the student body, and the drama club.

All to reign and keep order to the Dry Gulch activities, will be held in the music room, immediately following the dismissal of classes. Additional entertainment will be provided by the committee in charge of activities.

Students and faculty members will then adjourn to Lake Redding Park where activities and events will precede the picnic. A ball game between the students and faculty, sock races, bake contest, a hog rolling contest, tug-o-war are among the activities planned. Co-chairmen of the affair are Thomas D. Wilcox and Bob Deebel.
Shasta College has recently been designated as a testing center for the surrounding area for the college qualification test, prepared and administered by the Educational Testing Service, Princeton, N.J., which will be given on May 26, June 16 and 30.

An applicant who intends to request occupational deferment as a student must be a registrant under the Selective Service Act, be under 26 years of age at the time of taking the test, must be pursuing a full-time college course, and be in good standing at a degree-granting institution; the applicant must not have taken the test previously. To apply, a person must obtain an application card from any draft board, fill out this card and mail it immediately. The applicant must designate an examination center and its number on the draft board, or a list of the centers and their code numbers—Shasta College is 142. The applicant will be entered on a waiting list of admission to the college at any of the three testing dates.

Shasta students have been slow obtaining application cards from the college office here stated. They are urged to take care of this matter immediately— and not to forget to specify Shasta College and its code number 142.

FACULTY MEN MEET

The faculty men of Shasta College held their monthly meeting at the home of Mr. Richard James, with Mr. Oscar Matsu asmaster of the meeting. Cards were played during the evening and refreshments were served. Mr. Bob Thaler and Mr. Warren Bailey will be the hosts at the next monthly get-together.

STUDENTS PERFORM FOR CLUB

The drama department, under the direction of Miss Virginia Chappell, was asked to perform for a meeting of the Women's Improvement Club on Sunday, April 22. The department presented a play in one act, called "The Slave With Two Faces."
To Shasta's First Graduates

The staff of the Shastan, congratulates the students who will be graduated in June.

As this will be the first graduating class from this institution, it is indeed unique. The class will take its place in history among Shasta's growing list of firsts.

An interesting note is that the number of graduates exceed the expectations made before this institution opened last fall. The sophomores, although outnumbered about ten to one by the freshmen, have held their own in student affairs and have proved to be an active governing body.

Congratulations again, members of this historic class, and the best of luck to you in whatever path you choose to follow. Certainly this is one group the college and the community will not forget. Every Shasta sophomore should be proud to be a member of Shasta College, class of '51.

Hit The Jackpot!

The Shasta College workshop has been turned into a gambling joint—well, almost! Four console type and two mechanical slot machines, valued at $6,000, were presented for experimental purposes to the shop by the Shasta sheriff's office.

One experiment made showed that on 276 plays, exactly 74 coins were returned.

All the machines but one have been

TRIP FOR NIGHT CLASS

The adult night geology class took two trips to the Ingot Basin area on Saturday and Sunday, April 7 and 8, to examine rock formations and hunt for fossils. The group was divided into two trips as some were unable to go the first day.

Patient—"Doctor, what I need is something to stir me up—something to put me in fighting trim. Did you put anything like that in this prescription?" Doctor—"No, you will find it in the bottle labeled 'Mix.'"

Townsend Is The Man You Can Depend On When You Need Help

If a contest were held to decide just who did the most for Shasta College in its first year of operation, there would be one candidate who would stand out like a sore thumb. It is a young man who was always ready to help out in any emergency. Any emergency!

Recently, the college dramatic and music groups were on their way to give four performances in one day in Northern California. At the last minute, it was discovered that a member of the cast was not present. The bus left, but Mr. P. Stubblefield stayed behind to wait for the missing member.

About thirty miles and an hour before the first performance, the Stubblefield car passed the bus. It was apparent that the missing actor was not in the car. So what happened? Immediately a student in the bus asked Mrs. C. Chappell for a copy of the play and said that he (although he already had another part in this play as well as in another) would play the role of the man who wasn't there. And he did it, too.

And then there was the time a drama group went to Corning. Again a forgetful member (the college seems to have too many of them) failed to show up. And once more the same young man stepped in to play a new role he had never practiced.

The student's name is Jay Townsend. Jay Townsend has had experiences which many might envy. For instance he is quite an actor. In Las Vegas, he spent four years in the "Little Theater," and some time in the "Bird Cage Theater," meeting and appearing with such stars as Susan Peters.

Three years were spent in the Navy during which time he acted skits for the entertainment of service men and outside groups such as the Rotary Club.

Jay is talented as a drummer, and has played with several orchestras in Los Vegas. He has held jobs as a guide at Shasta Dam, as a theater manager, and for the Trans-World Airlines in skit, "Let's Have It," which was presented in a May festival there.

Jay's interest in drama has not left him, and he is a student in that field at Shasta College. He has been seen and heard in several college assemblies, and was the M.C. of the fame program which traveled to various high schools.

Des Moines, Iowa, is Jay's home town. He attended one year of junior college there, but decided to repeat it at Shasta College. Jay has lived in Redding for two years, and was one of the first to register for entrance. His reason for going to college here is that he believes it is an excellent opportunity to obtain two college years in a small school, particularly in a new school where he can help to get it started.

To be a physical therapist is Jay's goal. This was determined after seeing many crippled children, the shortage of registered physical therapists, a love of children, and because his own child is in need of physical therapy.

Jay is a reluctant giver of information concerning himself. "Anything I do is of no special interest to anyone," he modestly tells you. But what Jay does is of interest to Shasta College. The college is fortunate this young man decided to enroll here.

Three Classes To Be Offered This Summer

Shasta College Adult School will offer three classes during the summer, it was announced this week. These classes will be lower division classes and will carry three college credits. They are: California History, U. S. History and Government, and English IA.

Classes will begin on Monday, June 11, and will continue until August 2. They will meet from 7 to 10, two evenings per week. California History classes will meet on Tuesday and Thursday evenings. The U. S. History and English IA will meet on Monday and Wednesdays.

Since nearly all the requests for classes contain the request for California History, it is now possible to take the course and either the U. S. History or English classes for a total of three or six units of credit.

For each unit of work taken, the tuition will be $1. A student may take just one course if he prefers. Those interested in securing a place in any of these classes should make reservations by letter or by calling Mr. Raymond Sanders at the college. The payment may accompany the application or be payable prior to the enrollment in the classes.

The instructor for English IA will be Mr. Oscar Maiton; and for U. S. History, Mr. Stanford Jackson. The instructor for California History will be announced soon.

LOCALS SCORE IN TRACK AND FIELD

Small Chico Shasta College squads represented the Knights in the first college track and field meets of the year, at Chico State and at Yuba College.

Five men represented Shasta and every one of them was placed in his respective event at Chico. A total of 210 points were scored in the various events for 22% points. placer College scored 87 points for first place, Yuba had 62, Vallejo 26½ and Grant Tech 10.

However, with the smallest squad of any college--only five Knights were in the meet--Shasta did alright. Dick Ostrowski placed first in the shot put, Bruce Pickell tied for second in the pole vault; Dick Biddwell was third in the 880; George Daniells nailed third place in the mile; Jerry Jefcoat was fourth in the discuss; and the Shasta mile relay team finished fourth.

Each Knight in the meet won two medals.

COLLEGE TO LOSE FIRST Cage COACH

Dr. G. A. Colyer, announced the resignation of Mr. Robert Theller, Shasta College basketball and grid coach, has been accepted by the trustees of the school district.

A graduate of the College of the Pacific and a member of the power-packed football team of 1946 under the great Amos Staats, Theller came to Shasta College from Manteca High School with an impressive grid record. He coached Shasta's first basketball team to a fair season, finishing fourth in the Golden Valley Conference.

He said that the college has a great athletic future and that the support given by the sportsmen and business men of Redding was encouraging.

Theller says he has no immediate plans for the future. He leaves Shasta with the good wishes of the student body.

Danmark's flag has endured longest without change.

Peterson twice came from behind to beat his first two opponents. Gilaean joined the finals in the consolation. Harry Hawes, the fourth Knight in the meet, just failed to win, being nased out by Place's No. 2 man in three sets.
